

PRESS RELEASE

[Approved for Release as of June 1, 2009]

Cramer Decker Industries and Global Systems Partner To Expand CDI's Product Offering To Latin America.

Cramer Decker Industries, the nation's largest wholesaler of compressed gas and cryogenic equipment and related products, today announced a new strategic partnership with Global Systems to augment Cramer Decker Industries expansion into Mexico, Central and South America and the Caribbean. Effective immediately, Global Systems is Cramer Decker Industries exclusive agent for all products sold throughout the region.

Headquartered in Bradenton Florida, Global Systems (www.global-systems.org) is a leading supplier of gas and cryogenic products with a physical presence though out Latin America. Global Systems product knowledge and expertise in exporting goods into these regions is unsurpassed. Major gas producers rely on Global Systems to source, consolidate and supply equipment in many countries allowing Global to immediately expand Cramer Decker Industries opportunities through their established customer base.

“Global Systems international presence offers significant strategic advantages and broadens Cramer Decker's geographic reach across the Latin Americas, immediately making Cramer Decker an international supplier of proprietary CDI products,” stated Paul Cramer, Vice President at Cramer Decker Industries. “Global Systems expertise with numerous cultures and business practices throughout Latin America is invaluable to our aggressive growth plans,” stated Ron Barnett, Director of Sales at Cramer Decker Industries, “and Cramer Decker's broad product offering will make obtaining business a seamless transaction.”, “It's a perfect fit for both of our companies.”

Cramer Decker Industries has immediately begun offering a full line of gas, cryogenic, propane and medical equipment to Latin America. “Importantly,” stated Mr. Barnett, “this new partnership allows us to immediately bring the industries broadest and largest product inventories, our market leading pricing and our customer centric service to the entirety of the Latin America, and we are excited to introduce our operations to a significant number of new customers.”

Cramer Decker Industries is the nation's largest wholesaler of compressed gas and cryogenic equipment and related products, servicing over 10,000 customers in 50 states and over 30 countries around the world. With warehousing and distribution facilities in Southern California, Sacramento, California and Baltimore, Maryland, Cramer Decker maintains the largest product inventories in each of the industries it serves, and can deliver customer orders anywhere in the United States within 3 business days.

Global Systems can be reached at 941-747-3246. Cramer Decker Industries can be reached at 800-580-3643 for Propane Equipment and 800-752-4579 for Gas & Cryogenic Equipment, or visit its website at www.CramerDecker.com